About Us

Aviation operators regularly buy fuel at many locations and need a convenient way of making payments and getting reports on their purchases. Current means to do so are often unwieldy, complicated, risky and slow in operation.

We from 360 Jet Fuel, with many years of experience in the industry, have teamed up with world-class software developers from the banking and finance sector, to offer suppliers and operators an innovative and advanced solution.

We target a win-win-win solution that authorizes fuel purchase transactions through our own digital authorization system. We employ modern information technologies to bring speed, security and transparency to fuel purchasing.

What We Offer

We offer a full range of services, tailored to your needs; we can do -

- Ad hoc requests
- Global tenders & aviation fueling consultancy
